Secretary

BAILEY M. BOBBITT

Bailey M. Bobbitt, one of the best known young men of this section of the state, has been employed as secretary of the Chamber of Commerce by the directors and will begin his duties Tuesday morning.

The Chamber has been without a secretary since Ralph Waner resigned a month ago to enter business for himself.

Mr. Bobbitt has had a wide experience in business and knows all the angles of what a Chamber of Commerce can do and should do, the directors believe. He has grown up here and has been a citizen of Ada as long as he would care to admit he is old. For many years he was in the office of the Oklahoma Portland Cement Company, later entering the firm of Coffman, Bobbitt & Sparks.

The directors are optimistic over the outlook with Mr. Bobbitt in the office, and the encouraging reports from the oil fields and the better indications for a crop this season.

Several things claim the attention of the organization at this time, the first of which will be a campaign of co-operation with the rural sections. Each school district in the county will be asked to appoint three honorary members of the Chamber of Commerce.

SLAYER OF CHILD IS ELECTROCUTED

Slayer of Philadelphia Girl Pays Penalty in Pennsylvania Prison

(By the Associated Press)

BELLEPHONE, Penn., April 28.—Willie N. (Tex) Morgan, who kidnapped, attacked and killed six-year-old Lillian Gilmore in Philadelphia more than a year ago, was electrocuted today. Morgan showed no sign of fear as he was led to the death chair. His body was unclaimed and will be buried in the prison cemetery.

Albert Platt of Crawford county, Pennsylvania, convicted of killing Robert Ellis McGowan, a 19-year-old school teacher, was also electrocuted.

Morgan, a mill worker, invited the little girl and her younger sister Dorothy to take a ride in an automobile with him. He attacked Lillian and killed her by crushing her skull. Morgan then drove to Nashominy creek and threw the child's body into the frozen stream. Dorothy was returned to the vicinity of the home by Morgan who lived in the neighborhood. After Lillian was missed suspicion fell upon Morgan and he was arrested. Later he led the police to the place where he threw the body.

GAVE DEAD MAN DRINK OF BOOZE: ARREST TWO

(By the Associated Press)

OKMULGEE, April 28.—An unidentified man, probably 40 years old, found behind a derrick six miles north of this city yesterday morning died while being taken to the city hospital by officers.

Earl Butler, a taxi driver, and J. J. Bridgeman, oil field worker, were arrested last night for investigation in connection with the death.

Officers said that Butler and Bridgeman admitted to them that they gave the man a drink of whisky Saturday night after which he became violently ill. They said they hauled him to the derrick "so that he could get well" and intended to bring him back to the city as soon as he recovered. They denied giving him poison and said they had never seen him before Saturday night. No marks or blows or cuts were found on his body, physicians said.

Let a News Want Ad get it.

Holdenville Wins

Holdenville golfers are champ club welders.

Reliable information from J. Hugh Biles, club secretary, match-maker and publicity foreman, would have it that not all alibis and score cards are in at the present time, hence a detailed report of the play on the Ada course not available today.

According to Secretary Biles, defeat has been generally conceded by the selected ten, who played in the course Sunday.

COOLIDGE QUOTED AS FAVORING FORD

Telegram Would Line President up on Ford's Offer For Muscle Shoals

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—President Coolidge was quoted in a telegram produced today at the senate Muscle Shoals hearing as having stated that he was "trying to deliver Muscle Shoals to Henry Ford. The telegram by James M. Miller to the Dearborn Independent, Ford's newspaper, October 12, 1923. After the telegram was presented Chairman Norris said White House records showed Miller had an interview with the president on that date. The telegram read:

"In a private interview with President Coolidge this morning he said: 'I am friendly to Mr. Ford and wish some one would convey to him that it is my hope that Mr. Ford will not do or say anything that will make it difficult for me to deliver Muscle Shoals to him, which I am striving to do. While the president did not say so, I am sure Weeks has been consulting with the president this morning on Mr. Ford's reported interview in today's papers.'"

The telegram was addressed to "William J. Cameron or Ernest G. Liebold in care of the Independent." Liebold is Ford's secretary. The message was one of those submitted by the committee Saturday. Secretary was on the stand when it was offered and declared he did not know Miller.

HAYNES ARRANGING FOR SOONER SINGERS VISIT

Exceptional local interest will be afforded the appearance of the Sooner Glee Club, singers from the University of Oklahoma, here in the Convention Hall Wednesday night under the auspices of the Norman Howard post, American Legion through the personal arrangement of Floyd Haynes, former member of the glee club.

Haynes, who is making preliminary preparations for the visit of the glee club here Wednesday night was business manager of the organization in 1922 when a student at the University.

Homes have been secured for the singers through the efforts of Haynes and entertainment for the University Glee Club members arranged during their stay in Ada.

Haynes is also a member of the Norman Howard post American Legion.

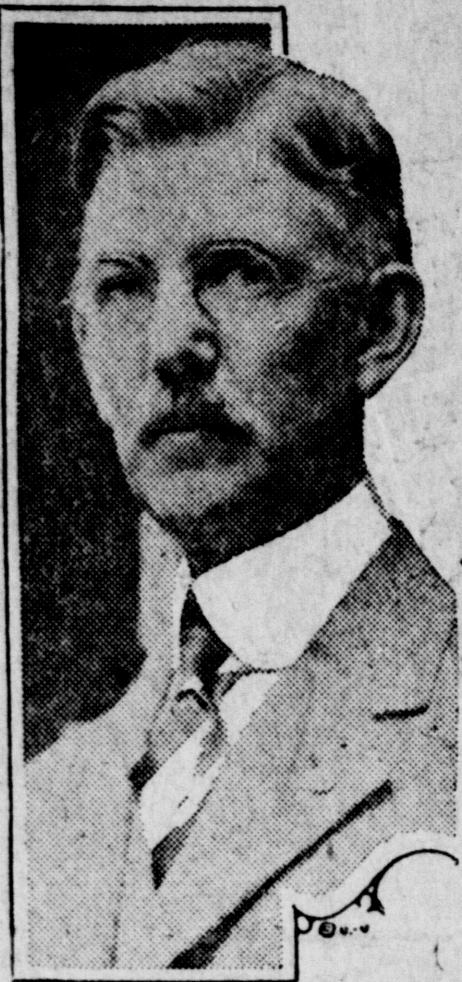

The University Glee Club has been afforded favorable recognition over the state as a musical organization and have merited the applause of Ada music-lovers in previous visits here.

New York Mourns Passing of Chief Of Tammany Hall

NEW YORK, April 28.—New York today paid its last tribute to Charles F. Murphy who was at the helm of Tammany Hall for 22 years. Seldom has a private citizen—for Murphy was not more than that despite the fact that his word often decided who should hold public office—been accorded such honors as those given "The Chief." Scores of men and women prominent in public life as well as hundreds of others in humble stations, joined to pay their respects.

Democratic leaders from all parts of America came to his funeral services at St. Patrick's cathedral. Among them were Norman E. Mack of Buffalo and George E. Brenna of Chicago who were expected to assume charge of Gov. Smith's presidential nomination destinies at the Democratic national convention.

NEW YORK, April 28.—Three bandits early today bound and gagged Charles Kresney in his office at a jewelry manufacturing plant in Nassau street in the heart of the lower Manhattan sky scraper district and escaped with diamonds and platinum ornaments valued at $150,000.

Dr. Walter H. Eddy.

Dr. Walter H. Eddy, discoverer of the first vitamin to be crystallized, hopes that the crystallization of the vitamin as an individual compound doesn't mean the arrival of capsule food, as some scientists predict. "It would take all of the joy out of life," he says. Previous to his successful experiments, science only knew what vitamins did—not what they were—tests having proved that they prevented scurvy and other pernicious ailments.

CHRISTIAN REVIVAL GETS LARGE CROWDS

Sunday Services Heard by Large Audiences; Special Song Service

Large crowds attended the Home Force Revival service at the First Christian church yesterday. The house was packed at both the morning and evening services and there was a large attendance at the Sunday school. The results of the contest between the men and women's classes yesterday was a tie, there being 105 women and 105 men in attendance.

The musical program was fine at both services, two pianos and a splendid orchestra accompanied the congregational singing and at the morning service, Miss Dorothy Duncan sang "The Holy City," in her gracious and charming manner. While at the evening service, the male quartet of the church sang "The Church in the Wilderness" in a way that pleased every one present.

Bro. Wallace spoke at two morning services on "The Gifts and Works of the Holy Spirit." He discussed this subject under three propositions, first, the Baptism of the Holy Spirit Received by the Apostles; second the extraordinary gifts of the Holy Spirit conferred by the laying on of the Apostles' hands. He showed that these gifts were nine in number; third, the general gift of the Holy Spirit which every one receives as a result of obedience.

The subject of the evening sermon was "The Condition of Forgiveness." He showed that Christ was not preached until after His resurrection. He forbade his disciples to tell people that He was the Christ. On the day of Pentecost, their lips were unsealed and for the first time they began to tell the people about Jesus, the Christ, Peter to whom the keys of the Kingdom had been given unlocked the door of the church and laid down the conditions on which the people might enter and receive the forgiveness of their sins. Rev. Wallace showed that these conditions were Faith, Repentance and Baptism, and at the close of the service, three persons complied with these conditions and were buried with their Lord in baptism.

Kiwanis Club to Lend Assistance In Boosting Ada

A Kiwanis Club committee, M. M. Webster, Slade Norman and A. W. Parker, has been appointed to devise ways and means of assisting in the campaign to advertise Ada thru the Shrine Special, a train that will carry Ada Shriners to the convening of the Imperial Council at Kansas City June 4, 5, and 6.

The committee was appointed at a directors meeting of the club today when A. W. Parker, Kiwanian, explained the campaign and the desire of the Shriners to decorate the special train to Kansas.

Reliable information from directors of the club indicates Kiwanis Club will share in the expense of conducting the "Advertising Ada plan" through the Shrine special.

Ex-Premier Target in Graft Probe Shaking New Foundland

ST. JOHNS, N. F., April 28.—Almost on the eve of the election, Sir Richard Squires, former premier of New Foundland, who is running for re-election, is under arrest on allegations which are shaking the country.

Charges of misuse of government funds and acceptance of large sums of money from a steel company with which the government was negotiating about ore taxes made against Sir Richard, who was elected premier in 1919 by the largest majority in the history of the country, caused a commissioner to be sent from England at the request of the government to investigate. He went to work early in January and only recently completed his task. His verdict was, guilty on both charges.

When intimations of the scandal began to sift through the colony last July, it created a tremendous sensation. Unlike officials in Washington, Squires resigned almost immediately and within an hour afterward his entire cabinet had followed suit.

A government auditor, assigned to check up the accounts of the Squires ministry, reported that in the two years' incumbency of John T. Meany as liquor controller, under Squires, there was an actual shortage amounting to $100,000.

As the inquiry proceeded, it was brought out that Squires's personal and that money diverted from government funds was used in an effort to meet his personal notes. His secretary, Miss Jean Miller, told the investigators that Squires instructed her to obtain funds through her brother, James Miller, who was an accountant for the Dominion Steel Co., and in case she was unable to obtain money enough from that source she was to go to Meany at the liquor control department.

She testified she obtained through her brother $43,000, which bank officials later swore went to Squire's personal account. From Meany she declared she received $26,000, of which $4,000 was repaid.

The steel company's tax agreement with the government had expired in December, 1919, and it was desired to negotiate a new agreement. During negotiations, testimony showed, Squire's financial straits were told to the steel interests, and it was suggested that they would be doing a wise thing if they financed him to the extent of about $65,000. The result of this was that representatives of the steel company in the next months applied $46,000 to his credit in various sum to meet personal notes.

Strangely enough, the news of the whole scandal was brought about through a falling out between Meany and Squires over the question of appointment.

Squires, denying the charges, is making a strenuous campaign for re-election.

W. O. W. WAR MAY DEMAND ACTION

National Officers Asked to Intervene in Insurance Controversy

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—National officers of the Woodmen of the World, a fraternal insurance order, have been asked to intervene in the controversy which has resulted in the refusal of J. G. Reed, state insurance commissioner to continue the license of the organization, according to a statement today by W. E. Solomon state manager.

Reed's action in refusing to issue the license followed a ruling by Attorney General Short that a two-thirds majority of the state insurance board must vote for the credentials. The validity of the vote of O. A. Searcy, district judge of Muskogee, whose status as a member of the board was questioned by a resolution adopted by the legislature was the basis upon which Reed acted.

Members of the order in the state now holding insurance policies are not affected but no new policies may be issued until a new license is obtained, according to Reed.

FRIENDS AFFIRM RUMOR OF INGRAMS SEPARATION

(By the Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 28.—Friends of Mrs. E. A. Ingram, who before her marriage to Capt. Ingram of the British army was Mrs. Enrico Caruso widow of the famous tenor, today confirmed rumors that she and her husband were not living together and that there were no plans for them to live together in the future. Divorce proceedings were not mentioned.

Reports of an estrangement were current here when Capt. Ingram returned to England several weeks ago. Shortly before they returned from their honeymoon at Palm Beach Mrs. Ingram denied rumors of a rift.

Mrs. Enrico Caruso, formerly Dorothy Benjamin, and Capt. Ingram were married in London last November. They came here in mid-December.

Mrs. Ingram made her debut in 1914. She was married to the famous tenor in 1918. On his death three years later she and their daughter Gloria inherited a considerable portion of the tenor's estate.

Railway Trainmen Of State Oppose El Reno Convention

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—A resolution calling upon labor and farmer organizations "to hold for naught" all action taken by the El Reno convention of the Farmer-Labor Progressive League was adopted here today by the legislative board of the Order of Railway Trainmen, representing all the railroad unions in the state.

The resolution described the El Reno gathering as "a picked and ram-rodded convention," a majority of which did not represent farmer and labor units of the state of Oklahoma, but represented chosen individuals given cards or certificates to vote by one individual in that convention.

WALTON ATTORNEYS HAVE FAINT HOPE IN ACTION

(By the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 28.—Counsel for former Gov. J. C. Walton of Oklahoma in a brief filed today in the supreme court announced that they entertained "faint hope" of favorable action by the court upon the appeal in which the former governor sought a review of his impeachment by the Oklahoma legislature.

Having failed to appear in the case when it was called for argument counsel for the former Oklahoma governor were granted until today in which to file a brief, the court refusing after having advanced the case at the request of the former governor, to postpone its consideration.

The brief which reached the court today covers substantially the same grounds for appealing to the court as are given in the brief filed when the appeal was docketed. It alleges conspiracy on the part of the Ku Klux Klan to put him out of office when he declared martial law in his fight against that organization.

Reformer's Home Bombed.

CHICAGO, April 28.—The home of Rev. Elmer L. Williams, dry crusader, vice foe and official of the Better Government association, was bombed early today. The pastor and his family were sleeping in the building but were not injured. The entire front of the frame residence was blown out.

MINERS TRAPPED IN SHAFT AFTER FIRE EXPLOSION

Over Hundred Miners Entombed in Benwood Mine In West Virginia

LITTLE HOPE HELD

Rescue Trains Hurried to Scene While Crews Start Work

(By the Associated Press)

(By the Associated Press)

WHEELING, W. Va., April 28.—One hundred fifteen miners were believed to have been lost today in an explosion and fire in the Benwood mill mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation at Benwood, a few miles down the Ohio river from here.

After struggling for six hours to overcome falls of rocks and earth in the drift mouth of the mine, rescuers gained access to the underground passageways by way of airshafts. Four bodies, all burned, were located within a few minutes. Two of these miners were alive when found but they expired before they could be brought to the surface.

Experts of the United States bureau of mines sent in a rescue car from Pittsburgh held little hope for any of the entombed men. Those who escaped the explosion and fire, they said, could not hope to win out against the deadly fire damp.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 28.—More than 100 miners were entombed by an explosion in the Benwood mine of the Benwood Steel Corporation near here a few minutes after they went to work this morning. All entries to the mine were blocked by rocks and dirt. Four hours after the blast volunteer rescuers were unable to enter the underground passageways.

Little hope for the trapped miners was entertained for the mine was on fire and choked with deadly fumes.

At the mine it was reported that 125 men went to work and that none had escaped. The state bureau of mines at Charleston, however, announced that its report showed only 107 men entombed.

The combined rescue cars of the United States government and West Virginia were rushed to the scene.

WHEELING, W. Va., April 28.—A few minutes after 200 miners went to work in the Benwood mine of the Wheeling Steel Corporation near here this morning, a terrific explosion occurred in the workings. The fate of the men is unknown.

The blast, according to reports from Benwood took place about three miles back in the mine and Benwood firemen summoned to the scene reported the mine was on fire.

Clouds of smoke drifted from the main entry of the mine and volunteer rescue crews were driven back. An hour after the explosion not a single rescue worker had been able to enter the mine.

Two cars of the United States bureau of mines stationed at Pittsburgh were ordered to Benwood. They were expected to make the run in less than two hours.

Entries of the mine were blocked by falling rock and debris further hindered the work of rescuers. Deadly fumes swept from the blocked entries.

More than 200 workers from near by mines rushed to Benwood when word of the disaster spread. Their first task was to clear the entries so that rescuers could fight. Rock and debris blocking the way was attacked with picks and dynamite.

Among those trapped in the mine was George Holliday, the fire boss, who went in this morning to see that all was safe.

A slope fronting the mine was crowded with men, women and children. They were unmindful of the drizzling rain for most of them awaited word from loved ones in the mine.

YOUTHFUL BANK ROBBER SENTENCED TO PRISON

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 28.—Jack Mitchell, youthful bank robber, pleaded guilty today to the robbery of the Capitol Hill state bank of this city and was sentenced to 25 years in the state penitentiary.

The plea was entered after it had been indicated that his trial would be postponed until May 5 because of a lack of jurors for the present term of court.

He was declared sane Saturday by a jury.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

OH THAT MEN would praise the Lord for His goodness, and His wonderful works to the children of men.—Psalm 107: 21.

MONROE'S BIRTHDAY

This is the anniversary of the birth of James Monroe, fifth president of the United States. In one respect Monroe was a fortunate man. Opposition to the war of 1812 culminating in the notorious Hartford Convention, brought the federalist party into such disrepute that it died a speedy death after the termination of the war. Monroe was elected with practically no opposition and when his first term expired, only a single electoral vote was cast against him for a second term. This elector explained that although he was for Monroe he wished the history of the nation to record the fact that Washington was the only president elected unanimously, hence he cast his vote for John Quincy Adams.

Monroe's time has gone down in history as the era of good feeling, there being but one party and it harmonious for the time being. For once partisan bickering was unknown.

Of course Monroe is remembered principally for his promulgation of the famous "Monroe Doctrine," the unwritten section of the fundamental law of the land to which all parties have adhered and jealously guarded ever since. Efforts have been made to take from him the credit for this masterstroke of political genius, but whether the idea originated with him or was suggested by some one else, the nations have been content to ascribe to him the honor due. It had the effect of preventing a general scramble of European nations for conquest of American territory which would in the end have imperilled the safety of this nation and the wisdom of the policy becomes more apparent with the passage of time. Hands off of strictly European affairs, and Europe's hands off of American affairs sums up the guiding policy of America since the day the historic message was read before congress.

THE COTTON SITUATION

The report of the census bureau on cotton consumed and exported during March shows that the mills of the United States consumed 483,928 bales, a falling off of approximately 140,000 bales over March 1923. For eight months of the current cotton year consumption was a little more than 4,000,000 bales, a falling off of approximately 400,000 bales over the corresponding period of 1923. Cotton held by factories and in storage totaled approximately 3,500,000 or about 1,000,000 less than that on March 31, 1923.

However, exports showed a gratifying increase during the eight months, totaling 4,682,357 bales, or a little more than 600,000 above the figures for the same period last year more than offsetting the falling off in the home trade.

Consumption and exports have averaged a trifle above 1,000,000 bales monthly. If that rate is maintained during the remaining four months of the cotton year the total will be around 12,000,000 bales, or 2,000,000 more than the crop of 1923 in the United States.

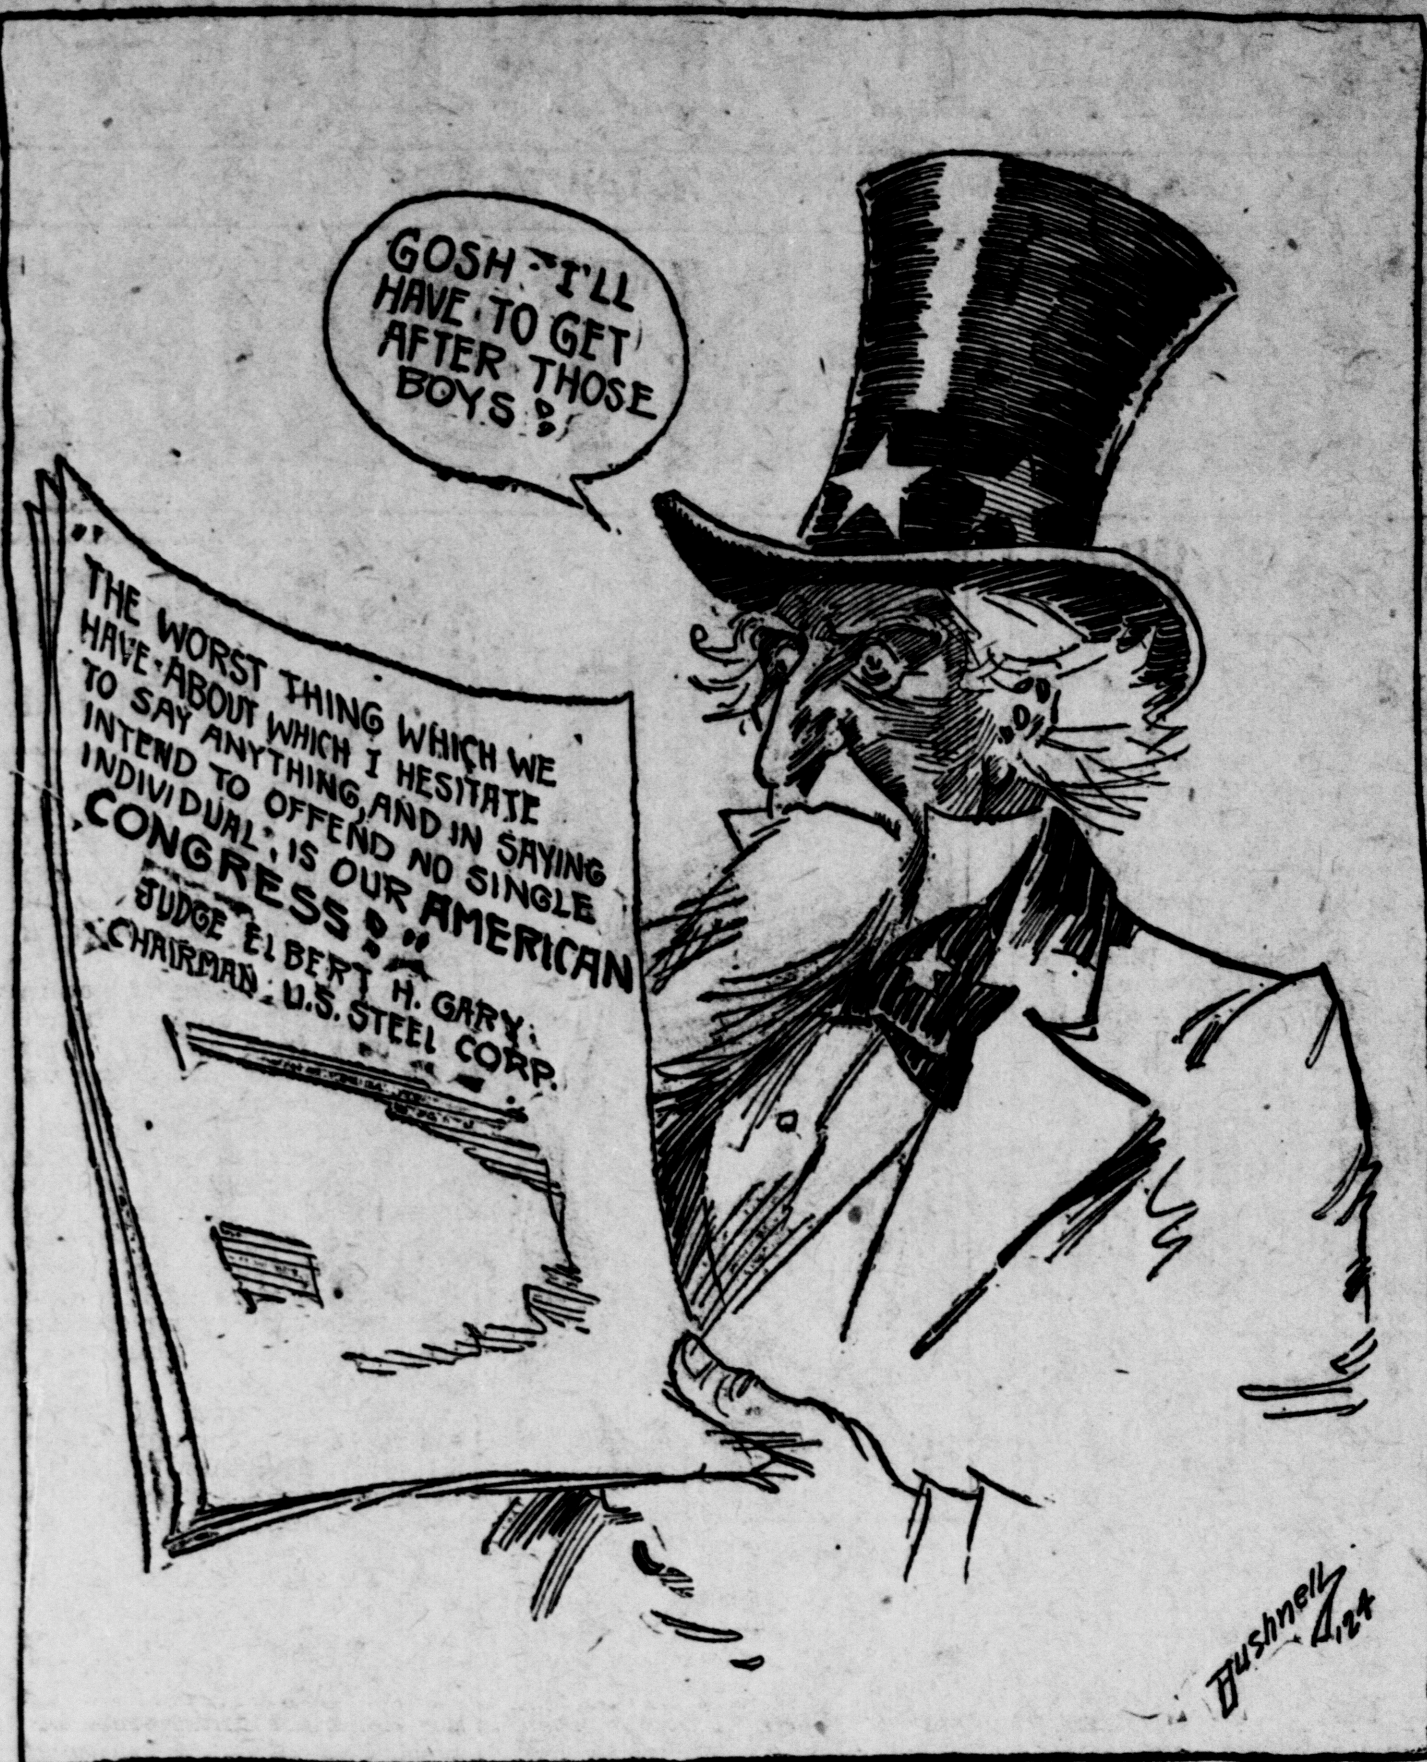

It is probable that the stock will be about exhausted by the time the new crop comes in, but as the acreage will undoubtedly be largely increased this year, it is not likely that there will be much of a cotton famine, unless the boll weevils or other pests or unfavorable weather cut the yield.

The death of Charles F. Murphy, autocrat of Tammany Hall and boss of the Democratic machine of New York, is causing much speculation concerning the bearing it may have on the affairs of the party during the coming campaign. New York has 90 votes in the national convention and Murphy had more to say than anyone else about how these should be disposed of. Tammany is an outstanding example of an organization that stands first of all for itself. More than once it has betrayed the national ticket and thus made itself a power to be feared on one hand and placated on the other. However, Arthur Brisbane, who is perhaps in as good a position to know the facts as is anyone else, is of the opinion that of late Gov. Al Smith has managed to acquire most of the real power over Tammany that Murphy formerly exercised and that Smith will handle matters about as they would have been with Murphy the nominal leader. In short, Tammany will push the candidacy of Smith for the presidential nomination.

The Tulsa Tribune says Tulsa is planning on doing big things for the editors attending the meeting of the National Editorial Association in that city May 30. Tulsa never does things by halves, hence it is safe to say that the occasion will be a big success. The editors will be in Oklahoma for several days and during this time they will gain first hand information regarding the state that will be of untold value to it when the editors return home. Their papers will carry much authentic matter at the outset and for years to come they will know how to judge Oklahoma justly in their writings. We who live here are proud of our state and have nothing to conceal. We want the outside world to know the truth and there is no better way of spreading it than through the members of the National Editorial association.

Twenty-five thousand by 1927! How's that for a slogan for the Chamber of Commerce?

VERY DISCONCERTING, TO SAY THE LEAST

An American View of Germans.

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram)

A public letter from an American traveler in Germany published in the Paris edition of the New York Herald and sent to a Ft. Worth man, paints a picture of Germany not at all like the ordinary conception. Instead of a Germany divided between the masses, who detest war and desire only to be permitted to erect a democracy, and an industrial autocracy which strives to keep alive the imperialism of Prussia, this American observer finds a Germany of one mind, which is that Germans are supermen and therefore divinely ordained to rule the world; that Germany would have won the war if it had not been deluded by Woodrow Wilson, and that next time it will win.

A few extracts from the letter are interesting:

"Allow me to use the opportunity given readers of world conference as proposed by Senator King of Utah, your paper to express my viewpoint on the subject of a diagnosis and prescribe a remedy for Europe's ills. What I have to say to that applies equally as well to disarmament conferences. Before this latest and most subtle form of propaganda progresses much further let me say that I wish every good American could come here and live two years as I have done; learn the language and the people; learn their viewpoint; hear how the Volk (and not its diplomats) feels about the whole situation. It would be a startling revelation and would discourage the most ardent pacifist.

"Germany is today more arrogant and cocksure of herself than in the days of 1914 up to the time of America's entry into the war. She denies any insinuation of having caused or having been the cause of the war, and what is more, I've not found a German who will admit that they lost the fight. Right here we see the seed of all the trouble which Europe, particularly France, has gone through and is going through. Germany's stubborn fight and determination to shirk all responsibility; her hopes of shifting the cost of her misadventure onto the allies (particularly France.)

"Since the passing of Wilson, the piece de resistance here is to accuse Wilson of having been the direct cause of all the misery among the German people since the signing of the treaty of Versailles. It is Wilson's fault that they laid down arms with victory almost won; that the poor have no coal; that the mark went to hell—that their credit is gone.

"Of course every intelligent German doesn't believe this rot. But the Volk does, and the latter is kept in ignorance by the powers that be; and the Volk is the foot of these powers (these deadbeats who have to date fooled England completely, America almost, and France not at all.) Thus we had the Passive Resistance in the Ruhr, from these very powerful individuals who influenced the Volk to strike. Its complete failure and the resulting hate which serves as a fine building ground for the next and still more terrible war.

The American observer undoubtedly is prejudiced in favor of the French viewpoint, but there is enough sound sense in his observations to argue the advisability of holding tenaciously to the principle to which all the allies first adhered and to which France has continued to adhere, that the imperialistic and industrial autocracies of Germany must be broken, that they must be made to pay to the utmost extent of their ability. Once broken down this rule, which, because of the submis-

Year of Thirteen Months Plan for New Calendar

WOOSTER, O., April 28.—The world's calendar may be changed all around in 1928. The year then may consist of 13 months, each of 28 days, with an extra day in regular years and two extra days in leap years.

Such is the objective of scientists, according to Dr. B. F. Yanney, professor of mathematics and astronomy at the College of Wooster and the revision probably will be acted upon at a world congress of scientists likely to be held in Geneva Switzerland, in October. A special committee, of which Prof. M. B. Cotsworth, Vancouver, B. C., director of the International Fixed Calendar League, is secretary, soon will set a definite date for the congress. The committee was selected at the Cincinnati meeting of the American Association for Advancement of Science.

International agitation to change the existing form of the calendar now has reached such a stage that organization to change to a simpler type is under way, Dr. Yanney said. He expressed himself as certain, if the proposed Scientists' Congress adopts the thirteen month style, that sentiment will be strong to bring about its adoption in 1928 by all countries.

There are many defects in the present calendar, Dr. Yanney asserted. It is of Roman origin with a number of changes by Augustus Caesar and Pope Gregory XIII.

"There are 14 varieties of yearly calendar," Dr. Yanney continued. "They depend upon the kind of year, common or leap, and on the day of the week that the year begins. In any country these 14 varieties occur in cycles of 28 years, but by reason of the fact that of centuries years only those divisible by 400 are leap years, it requires a complete period of 400 years for a complete cycle to occur.

"Due to the number of days in the months, there are eleven varieties in a year. Apart from the year in which a monthly calendar may appear, there are altogether 28 varieties of monthly calendars. The short period of time in which these 28 varieties may occur is 24 years.

siveness of the German people, has a strong hold, and the masses will be amenable to new authority. And that authority must be an authority whose ideals are far removed from the imperialism of the days of William. The allies must see to this to

MAYOR OF SULPHUR REFUSES TO RESIGN

SULPHUR, April 28.—At a mass meeting of Sulphur citizens Saturday night, it was voted to ask R. L. Merrill, mayor, and Fred Gafford, financial secretary, to resign.

The meeting was called following a recent audit of the city books in which it was alleged city funds were misappropriated.

Both Mayor Merrill and Gafford were asked to attend the meeting, but only Merrill attended as Gafford was in Oklahoma City resting from a nervous breakdown, it was understood.

Mayor Merrill flatly refused to resign and defended himself against the charges by declaring he had no part in the city fund handling.

Some Advantages of Electric Power

SAFETY

Electric power drive insures safety in the factory. In the first place, modern electrical equipment is so constructive as to minimize danger from fire. In the proper installation of a wiring system the greatest security against interruptions to service is provided by the use of devices that prevent overload.

Because of the greater element of safety in the operation of electrical machinery, workers in the plant are less liable to incapacitating accidents. This is accomplished largely through the elimination of belting and fly-wheels; the moving parts of electric motors are enclosed.

Rates on fire, liability, engine and boiler insurance are reduced materially when electric service supplants other forms of power. A further protection lies in the fact that standard electrical equipment is approved as fire and accident hazard by the insurance underwriters.

Safety is only one of the factors that make electric drive desirable. Let us acquaint you with other important features.

Mrs. Wilson Suffered For 6 Years From Indigestion Until She Took His Advice.

"Ever since I took TANLAC two years ago, I have been blessed with the best of health," states Mrs. Elmer Wilson, highly esteemed resident of 304 Jefferson St., Topeka, Kansas.

"For six years I had suffered from indigestion, which often troubled me day and night. I did not want to eat a thing and at times I would be in such pain and misery from indigestion, heart palpitation and dizziness that I almost felt like screaming.

"My brother, who had used TANLAC, persuaded me to try the medicine and it gave me a grand appetite, ended the indigestion, palpitation and dizziness, increased my weight twelve pounds, and soon had me feeling fine. I have taken TANLAC since then in the spring, to keep up my health, and it has never failed me."

Farmers' Column

By Byron Norrell

From what farmers in town Saturday told me, considerable damage was done by the heavy rain, especially in the bottoms. Sandy was well out of banks, but not so high as on some occasions last year. Some said upland corn was not hurt much but several thought that all cotton that had been planted would have to be planted over if the farmers got fair stands and healthy plants. The rainfall between Thursday night and Saturday totaled 4.04 inches, according to E. A. MacMillan, local observer.

Agent J. B. Hill in connection with the A. and M. college is trying to enlist a number of farmers in a distance test of cotton. Opinions on this subject have differed widely and this year an effort will be made to try a sufficient number of tests in the various cotton growing counties of the state to form a definite idea. Here is what is wanted a patch not thinned, one thinned to 6 inches, one to 9, one to 12 one to 18, one to 24 and one to 30. The plan is for each experiment to try all of these on land as nearly uniform as possible in quality and more who will try it out the better it will suit Mr. Hill.

Marketing Summer Eggs
Mid-summer egg prices compare favorably with prices in mid-winter. There is only one period in each year when fresh eggs are almost a drug on the market, and that is during the months of March and April. By the first of May, poultry in the Southwest begins to decrease in production, and during June, July and August, consumers are always willing to pay a premium for eggs that they know are strictly fresh and but a day or two old.

Eggs, in hot weather, must be marketed more often than in winter. During the cold period of a week or two and to market in larger quantities, but not so in July and August. Even infertile eggs will become tainted and strong if kept more than a few days.

The consumption of eggs in the summer months would be greatly increased if consumers could be assured of their freshness. One strong or taint egg served at breakfast often decreases the consumption of eggs many dozens during the weeks that follow. Swearing off on eggs in summer time results from the serving of eggs not strictly fresh. It destroys the appetite for the product of the poultryman, or the farmer who markets his eggs as soon as collected, soon earns a reputation for quality goods and he will find that the demand at fancy prices will exceed his supply.

Eggs should be infertile, gathered daily and marketed at once. It is the only way to make money on poultry in summer time.—Farm and Ranch.

ICE CREAM LAWS AMUSE BRITISHERS

Bill to Permit Sale of Ice Cream at Night is Laughed Down

LONDON.—The fun poked by Americans at the British habit of "pottering" around for tea every afternoon is mild compared to the almost hilarious attitude of the Briton towards ice cream. To most Englishmen there seems to be something screamingly funny about ice cream. The House of Commons has seldom echoed more laughs in a few minutes than it did the other day when a member asked for permission to introduce a bill permitting the sale of ice cream after 9:30 at night. Since the war nocturnal purchasing of ice cream has been illegal, unless it was accompanied by a meal.

The laughter broke out first when Harry Becker, the member for Richmond, introduced his plea. It waxed louder when he said the object was to encourage the development of ice cream and soda fountains in this country. At present, he said, ice cream could be sold after 9:30 only if it was part of a meal, and this was a vexatious infringement on the liberties of the people. More laughter and a few cheers. If ice cream could not be sold after 9:30, the speaker argued, it began to melt and bacteria developed. Upstairs laughter. What would be colonial and foreign visitors to the Empire Exhibition think if they could not order an ice cream after 9:30, or entertain their friends at home with mineral waters? Loud guffaws.

Hearty old Tories shook with amusement, back-bench Laborites grinned, and the faces of some of the lady members broke out with smiles as Mr. Becker sat down. Then someone added to the general mirth by suggesting a division to let the whole House decide whether the ice cream bill might be presented. It all seemed too funny for words, so no one seconded the motion.

It will be interesting to observe just what the colonial and foreign visitors this summer will think about the way England puts up legal hedges around cigarettes and chocolate candies and ice cream and other pleasurable commodities, soon after sunset each evening. It is illegal to buy any of them after 9:30 unless a meal is ordered. Similar restrictions are imposed on beer and stronger beverages after the bars close at 10 or 11.

Most of the night-time restrictions on personal habits were imposed during the war. Some patriot conceived the idea that the military forces of the allies would be aided if people gave up buying ice cream, tobacco, soft drinks, bonbons and lollypops at late hours. It was argued that this would release workers for more essential employments. Doubtless it did. And now, five years after the armistice, the war-time restrictions continue unrepented. They have almost become a tradition.

STRANGE MEETING ON SHILOH BATTLE FIELD

CORINTH, Miss.—S. W. Swinehart of Blytheville, Ark., a veteran of the war between the states and a member of Buel's army related an interesting story in Corinth as he passed through here after having visited the Shiloh battle field for the first time since the battle in 1862.

Met on Field.
Two soldiers made the trip to the battlefield to locate the point where each was wounded on the first day of the battle. One was a Federal and the other a Confederate, and they were laid side by side at the roots of a tree near a ravine.

By and by the Yank was left alone, as the Johnny was removed by his comrades. As he was taken away the Confederate handed the Federal his canteen of water.

They had never seen nor heard of each other from that day on. As the Federal soldier approached the place on the battlefield where he had received his wound and where he was separated from the man who gave him the canteen of water, he noticed an aged man walking about and apparently endeavoring to locate something.

Being questioned, this man told the story of leaving the canteen there in the hands of a wounded foe. The man who plied the question unbuttoned his coat and producing a battered and time-worn canteen remarked: "Here is your canteen."

Tim to Forget War.

They stood facing each other for a moment, and then there was no Mason and Dixon line, there was no north, no south; only the gratitude of a human heart and the responsive love of humanity swayed each, and they were in each others arms in a moment.

OLDTIME DANCES ARE DIFFICULT FOR MODERNS

Ye Oldtime Dancers may have been all the poetry and grace of motion as compared with our jerky modern jazz steps, but it certainly is hard to swing into them after the lapse of a hundred years!

If you don't believe it ask some of the comely young women who took part in the big colonial ball room scene of "Little Old New York" the Cosmopolitan picture starring Marion Davies which opens at the American theatre today. Attired in their charming old-fashioned dresses, right merrily did they dip and courtesy in the dance called Roger de Coverly. And next day when the cameras were not grinding all of them were gingerly rubbing stiff knees and trying their best not to walk with a limp. The truth was that "ye oldtime dance" brings into play muscles which are seldom used as the modern fox trots do not include low courtesies to one's partner.

INDIAN POW-WOW TO BE BIG EVENT

Ten Thousand Natives Are Expected at Meeting
At Tulsa

TULSA, April 25.—Plans for the high Indian celebration to be held here June 9, 10, and 11 under the auspices of the Society of Oklahoma Indians, in which approximately 10,000 aborigines are expected to participate, have been completed, according to an announcement of S. J. Soldani, president of the society.

Sand Springs will be the scene of the big pow-wow and some of the features of the gathering will be a parade of Indians depicting the marchers as they were in their native haunts years ago and an Indian ball game between the Creeks and Nichees, the first to be held in this part of the state in 31 years.

Virtually every tribe in America, including Canada, Alaska and Mexico, will be represented, Soldani said.

Each of the tribes have been asked to provide their representatives with native costumes and equipment peculiar to their old life.

The parade will be held through the streets of Tulsa. War paint will be the call of the day. The government authorities, however, have ordered those tribes which dress only in a girdle head gear while in native retreats, to don more clothing when they appear in the parade.

If every attending Indian joins the parade, it probably will be about five miles long, Soldani estimated. All streets through which the parade will pass are to be cleared and the marchers allowed full liberty for their antics which will be executed to the accompaniment of war cries and old half-forgotten yells.

The society will spend approximately $20,000 on the celebration, Soldani said.

Included in the features of the pow-wow are many tribal war dances a 3-day barbecue and a mock battle depicting an early day skirmish between frontiersmen and Indians.

Picked members of the tribes represented and a group of cowboys from the 101 ranch near Ponca City will participate in the mimic fight.

A business session will be held in connection with the pow-wow at which representatives of all tribes will be asked to submit suggestions for advancement of the interests of Indians generally.

Most of the tribesmen, their squaws and maidens, will come here in wagons or on horseback. The only tribe that probably will arrive in modern equipment is the Osages, the richest Indians in the world. They are expected to travel, as is their custom, in expensive motor cars.

Among the implements the Indians will bring to the pageant will be the old horse trailers they used years

W.O.W. BARRED FROM NEW BUSINESS IN OKLAHOMA

(By the Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY.—The Woodmen of the World lodges no longer can do a fraternal insurance business in Oklahoma, as the result of action of J. G. Reed, state insurance commissioner in refusing to grant the order a state fraternal insurance license.

The various local lodges can exist as fraternal orders and the insurance now held by the 16,000 members in the state is not affected by his order, Reed said Saturday. But no new insurance may be written and this practically cuts off new members as the insurance feature was the main membership attraction.

Reed's action directly reverses that of the state fraternal insurance board of last February which had granted the Woodmen the right to do a fraternal insurance business in Oklahoma and came as the result of an opinion given Friday by George Short, attorney general, holding that the February action of the fraternal insurance board was an illegal proceeding.

The attorney general's ruling put the issuance of a license squarely up to Reed, as state insurance commissioner, and he refused it, he said Saturday, because the sovereign grand lodge had refused to comply with an act of the Ninth legislature requiring that all members expelled from the lodge either be reinstated or given a hearing before they are expelled.

William M. Franklin, clerk of the state supreme court, is the stormy petrel around which the battle within the lodge has been waged for more than a year. It was the refusal of sovereign grand commander, W. A. Frasier, of Omaha, to give Franklin a hearing on the charges on which Franklin was expelled that brought about the refusal of Reed to issue the license.

A few years ago there was an insubstantial movement in the grand lodge, relic bows and arrows and spears.

The Indian society expects at least 5,000 white visitors in Tulsa during the Indian gathering.

lodge in which Oklahoma lodges joined and later the various state, county and local camps of the order in this state went back into the fold of the grand camp. Franklin was one of the members who refused to give up his insurgency and he was expelled from the grand lodge on orders of Frasier, the sovereign grand commander.

Various battles were fought through the courts and finally the first session of the Ninth legislature in its closing hours, passed Senate Bill No. 264. Among other things this bill provided that no member of a local camp, grove or lodge "shall be suspended from the fraternal or insurance benefits, or any other benefits, of the society or association unless they are duly and properly charged with violating the laws, rules and regulations of the society or association to which they belong, are tried and after a fair and impartial hearing are found guilty by the subordinate lodge, camp, grove or other subordinate body to which they belonged."

DAUGHERTY'S BROTHER CITED FOR CONTEMPT

WASHINGTON April 26.—Without debate the senate today adopted a resolution citing M. F. Daugherty of Ohio, brother of the former attorney general, for contempt because of his failure to respond to the summons of the Daugherty investigating committee.

ONE DRUNK HELD FOR WEEK-END OFFENSES

The usual list of week-end city ordinance offenders were absent in police court this morning and the business of the morning passed over in meeting out justice to one lone drunk. Another arrest on a charge of possession of whiskey was turned over to the jurisdiction of the county court.

Police court business has been unusually slow for the past few days.

DENISON COMES FROM BEHIND IN NINTH INNING TO DEFEAT ADA INDEPENDENTS SUNDAY

Ada's regular Sunday afternoon baseball fans are breathing freely now over a new thrill of the season-Sunday afternoon's game between the Ada Independents and Denison's baseball nine.

In a game made-to-order for the fan, while not favoring Ada, Denison made a perfect come-back in the ninth inning of Sunday's game and won the fracas with a score of 4 to 3.

Holding the Denison club to one hit and scoreless until the first half of the ninth inning, Ada's star twirler, Davis, weakened and allowed four runs to cross the plate and settle the odds in favor of the Texas diamond stars. Ada was unable to connect with the ball in the last of the ninth and doom settled over Ada's chance of victory.

Houser of Denison and Davis of Ada settled down after the first inning for a twirlers battle and completed the game in sensational form. Airtight fielding after the first inning made the game one of unusual thrills.

Ada's defeat was spelled when Houser, Denison twirler landed a single in the ninth and scored on another single. Two other singles counted for an additional run but the heavy work was left up to Leach, giant first sacker for Denison, who leaned on a swift one of Davis' delivery and sent the ball to the right field wall for a two base hit and two more runs or a sufficient lead to best the Ada tribesmen.

Ada started off in a swift stride by crossing the plate with three runs as a result of four singles in a row but were unable to land another hit during the remaining eight innings of the game.

The game was featured with sensational fielding by both Denison and Ada players during the nine innings of the game.

Davis, Ada twirler, allowed six hits, five bases off balls and struck out nine batsmen. Houser for Ada allowed four hits, two bases off balls and struck out four men.

"THE CALL OF THE CANYON" SCREENED BY PARAMOUNT

Zane Grey is probably the biggest name in modern American fiction. Every one of his books sells over a million copies. "The Call of the Canyon" is the second Zane Grey story to be produced by Paramount. It ran as a serial in the Ladies Home Journal and has since been published as a novel. It is a story of Fifth Avenue and the Me-jave Desert, of frivolous New York society and the stern life of the Western ranges, of a pair of society wasters—a man and a beautiful girl—and the effect which the great open spaces of the West has upon their souls and their love. The contrasting backgrounds of New York Jazz parties and the struggles and feuds of the Arizona cattle country, the man-to-man fights and the love-rivalries, and the rapid-fire thrills with which the plot is packed, make this in every respect an outstanding picture of any season.

The picture which will be shown at the McSwain theatre today, tells of Carley Burch, a daughter of the rich, who is engaged to be married to Glenn Kilbourne, a World War veteran. He becomes disgusted with the shallowness of their frivolous society life and gladly obeys his doctor's orders to go to Arizona for his health.

Glenn stays with an Arizona ranching family, the Hutter (and Flo, the daughter of the house, falls in love with him. But he is true to Carley, though he wavers.
Carley, still deeply in love with him, journeys out to Arizona to see him. The crudeness of every-things disgusts her. She attends a ranch dance in a very décolleté evening gown and is insulted by a sheep herder. Glenn licks him. She tries to get Glenn to go back East with her but he will not go. She returns home to live her old life only to find it tasteless!

In her absence, Glenn, to save Flo Hunter's life and in gratitude for her devotion, is about to marry her when Carley returns to Arizona.
Flo realizes that her love for Glenn is vain and in the church she sees Carley. Flo leaves and Glenn and Carley look at each other with the PAWHUSKA—April 14.—The annual track and field meet of the high schools of Osage county will be held here April 18. It is expected that 500 athletes, representing 12 high schools will be present and participating in the different athletic events. The meet is being put on by the Osage county association of independent schools, recently organized.

Why are days longer in summer?

—because, as the earth revolves,
the sun passes more directly overhead than it does in winter.
Therefore it has to cover a greater arch to get from its rise to its setting. Whatever the season,

Puretest Epsom Salt

som Salt is filtered five times.

OIL NEWS

Rumors were current in Ada today that the McDougal well in section 20-6-7, between Konawa and Sasakwa, had come in last night with a production from 5,000 barrels up. The rumor was groundless, and now everybody is denying that he had anything to do with it.

This hole is now 2,800 feet deep.
The gas sand found Saturday proved to be only four feet thick, and this was followed by a blue shale. Today they were setting the six inch pipe on a limestone.

The well occasionally cleans itself from the gas pressure, and it is presumed this is what caused the rumor to spread that it was an oil producer. The operators are encouraged and they believe when they get to the Wewoka sand that it will be a big one.

Let a News Want Ad get it.

Teachers Take Exams.
Eleven instructors in schools in this and adjoining counties took teachers examinations in the office of County Superintendent A. Floyd Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week.

Five teachers taking examinations were from Pontotoc county and six came in from adjoining counties.

The Fabric That Men Like Best

A man's judgment on whether or not a thing becomes a woman is the court of first and last appeal. He is not influenced by what happens to be the prevailing fashion —as a woman is. But strangely enough, he influences fashion because his very liking of a thing makes it a lasting fashion.

Men like gingham because it is a fabric in which a woman looks youngest.
